Introduction

The Faculty of Arts with an enrolment of 9,650 students and 202 full-time and 42 part-time academic staff is one of the largest faculties in the University. The Faculty has ten Departments of: Linguistics and Languages, Communication Skills, Literature, Geography and Environmental Studies, History and Archaeological Studies, Psychology, Sociology and Social Work, Political Science and Public Administration, Philosophy and Religious Studies and Kiswahili and one sub-department of French. Within the Faculty there are also the Confucius Institute and the Centre for Human Rights and Peace. In addition, the Faculty collaborates with the Schools of Economics and Mathematics and other institutions such as Utalii College, the Kenya Institute of Administration and the University Library in offering some of its academic programs.

Academic Programs

The Faculty offers a large number of competitive, demand-driven programs ranging from diploma, bachelor, master, post-graduate diploma and Ph.D. Diploma programs include, social work and social development and criminology and social order. Apart from the mainstream bachelors' programs leading to major or minor in various disciplines, there are specialized programs which include: Counseling psychology, social work and criminology and criminal justice. At the master level programs in core disciplines of the departments are strengthened by specialized ones such as Master in Public Administration, Master in various clustered areas of sociology such as rural sociology and community development, counseling and disaster management, master in human rights and peace and master in library studies. The Ph.D. degree program is offered by nearly all departments.
